JOHN STRIPLING
... Authors New Novel

Novel by Former Herald Editor Due in Spring

Due to come off the press in early spring is a new book written by John Stripling, one-time sports editor of the Torrance Herald.

Stripling, remembered by Herald readers as the author of the column "Strip-Tees," has named the novel, a fiction story, "The Alicia." It will be published by Exposition Press.

He describes the book as being "too spicy for Colliers, too real for True, too deliberately insidious for Liberty, and too phony for True Story—so I rewrote it into a novel to make them all jealous."

Volley Ball Tournney Set For Adults

A series of volleyball tournaments for men and women in the adult class at the Torrance Evening High School, meeting on Tuesday and Thursday nights, was announced by Coach Cliff Graybehl.

As part of the Physical Fitness program, three types of volleyball tournaments will be held: (1) "Triples" tournament (women), (2) "Triples" tournament (men), (3) Four-person mixed teams. These tournaments will be the double elimination type.

Instruction on court and basic skills will be stressed for beginning students. Advanced students will be given new techniques to further increase their skill.

As part of this Physical Fitness course, it is planned that a women's calisthenics session will be set up to serve as a general body-toner, weight-reducer, and physical fitness device.

Men and women may join this free group to receive instruction in volleyball, enter the volleyball tournament, or callisthenics, or any other phase of this Physical Fitness Program.
